Mackerel Notes.

The little netting sch. Florida, Capt. Procter, which arrived home from her southern mackerel netting trip this morning has made a good spring's work, the crew sharing $230. This is good work and those of the netting fleet which have equalled or bettered it are very few indeed.

Sch. Monarch, Capt. Dewey, stocked $1700 on her fresh mackerel trip at Boston yesterday.

Sch. Thomas J. Carroll, Capt. Cahoon, arrived at Boston this morning from the South Shoal ground with 130 barrels of fresh mackerel.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Capt. James Fowler is fitting sch. Massasoit for swordfishing.

TICKE THE TROUT.

Do It Carefully, and You Can Gather Them In Easily.

I once spent my vacation in the little village of Schoenwald, in the Black forest. One day the son of the proprietor of the inn at which I was staying said that he was going out to catch some trout and asked me if I would accompany him. He was in his bare feet, his trousers rolled up, and he had a small, very much elongated keg slung by a strap over his shoulder instead of a creel.

The keg had a square opening on the top side, and he said that he would show me how to catch trout without tackle. We went down to a small brook running through a meadow near the house. He partly filled the keg with water, then, wading a few yards up stream, stooped down and carefully felt under the long grass which hung over the bank. After awhile he lifted a nice brook trout out of the water and put it into the keg and then wading a little farther repeated the operation and took in all some twenty trout out of the brook.

He told me that he caught the fish by feeling carefully around under the grass at the edge of the bank, and when he felt one he tickled and stroked it until by a quick movement he could insert his thumb and forefinger into the fish's gills and then lift it out of the water. I went with him and saw him catch fish in this way several times.—New York Times.

NEARLY $10,000.

Sch. Elector Makes Largest Salt Bank Trip Stock.

Welgeed Off 290,000 Pounds of Salt Cod.

Sch. Elector, Capt. Clayton Morrissey, weighed off 290,118 pounds of salt cod as the result of her recent salt bank trip, making the magnificent stock of $9734.80, the crew, all sharemen, getting $228 as their share of the fine voyage. This is the largest salt bank trip of the year and also the largest stock and share, and is in keeping with Capt. Morrissey's past record as a wonderful fisherman and master mariner par excellence.

MORE MACKEREL ARRIVALS.

WITH SHAD FOR BAIT.

Sch. Kineo Quickly Got a Big Trip on Georges

Sch. Kineo, Capt. John Stream, arrived from Georges halibuting this morning after being gone but 20 days, with one of the largest trips of the season at that line of fishing, 6000 pounds of fresh halibut, 125,000 pounds of fresh fish, mostly cusk, and 5000 pounds of salt cod. The vessel was but two weeks on the fishing ground and coming home, after getting her bait at Powder Hole. Capt. Stream found great fishing and started for home only when his bait gave out. The fare was caught with fresh shad for bait, the vessel taking 85 barrels of these fish at Powder Hole and silvering them.

MONSTER SALT TRIP.

Proves Success of Purse
Seine on Bank Trip.

SCH. TATTLER COMES HOME.

With Almost Half a Million
Pounds of Salt Fish.

As if to prove the efficiency of the plan of using the purse seine on a salt bank trip, Capt. Alden Geel, the originator of the idea, arrived from the Sable Island grounds in the sch. Tattler, this morning, with the enormous trip of 440,000 pounds of salt fish, mostly pollock.

The Tattler left here April 6, after most of the salt bankers had been gone from three to five weeks, and is already home with this monster fare, before the bulk of the salt bank fleet have arrived. Of course the salt bankers will bring mostly all salt codfish, while the Tattler has mostly salted pollock, but the point is that Capt. Geel has demonstrated that seining codfish and pollock is entirely feasible, and the fact that he has pollock instead of codfish is due to the fact that pollock were found in great quantities on this ground where codfish are known to school in large numbers.

Capt. Geel did not begin to fish until the middle of May, as the fish did not strike until then, so this great fare has been taken with the seine in about five or six weeks. Had codfish struck in at that time instead of pollock, the result as far as the amount of fish caught would have been the same, but the compensation would have been far greater, owing to the great difference in price of the two products. As it is, the voyage will be a remunerative one, and also proves that purse seining in the salt banking on the Sable Island ground has passed the experimental stage and must be labelled a success.

The fare of the Tattler is one of the largest trips of salt fish ever landed in the history of the New England fisheries, and in point of quickness of securing, is far and away ahead of any previous record.

MACKEREL AT NEWPORT.

Sch. Kentucky Lands 11,000 Large
Fresh Fish.

Sch. Kentucky of this port arrived at Newport this morning with 11,000 large mackerel in count.

Our Newport correspondent sends us the following mackerel arrivals at that place today:—

- Sch. City of Everett, 500 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Fitz E. Oakes, 500 fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Kentucky, 185 bbls. fresh mackerel.

Good Stock.

Sch. Paragon, Capt. William Herman, stocked $2753 on her recent Georges halibut trip, the crew sharing $65.

Halibut Sale.

The fare of sch. Kineo sold to the American Halibut Company at 10 cents per pound for white and 7 cents for gray.

FINE MACKEREL FARE.

Sch. Norma Has 18,000 Fresh at Boston Today.

Schs. Lucania and James and Esther Also There.

Sch. Norma, Capt. Benjamin McGray, arrived at Boston from the fishing grounds off the South Shoal lightship this morning with a big trip of fresh mackerel, 18,000 fish in number. Sch. James and Esther, Capt. Samuel T. Hatch, is also there with 7000 fresh mackerel in count and sch. Lucania, Capt. Martin L. Welch, with 5000 fresh mackerel in count.

The fresh mackerel at Boston sold at 13 1-2 cents each.

The netter Viola had three swordfish at New Bedford Thursday.

The weirs at Provincetown had about 20 barrels of fresh mackerel Thursday and the netters from 100 to 300 mackerel each.

The salt mackerel catch to date is about 14,500 barrels against 10,687 barrels at this time last year.

The fresh mackerel catch to date is 32,000 barrels against 38,000 barrels at this time last year.

Sch. Rita A. Viator had 12 swordfish at Newport yesterday.

The netter L. H. Eaton had 1000 fresh mackerel and three swordfish at Newport yesterday. The Elk had 400 fresh mackerel there.

The first arrival of Nova Scotia salt mackerel of the season, 116 barrels, reached Boston yesterday.

Sch. Thomas J. Carroll, which arrived at Boston yesterday, reports catching her fare 20 miles northwest of the South Shoal lightship. Sch. George Parker caught a small school, as did a number of other vessels which were there. The fish were taken Wednesday morning.

The fares of schs. Livonia and Manomet sold to Frank Stevens, the fish bringing 13 cents each.

CALLS IT A BONANZA.

Our Salt Fishing Fleet Leaves Money in Nova Scotia.

Correspondent in Halifax Paper
Speaks Some Truth.

The following communication, which appeared in the Halifax Chronicle of recent date, shows that the American fishermen have some good friends in Nova Scotia, who are willing to stick up for them and in a sound reasonable way:

Sir:—The baiting privilege secured to American fishermen by the old treaty, of which Mr. A. K. McLean complained in the commons lately, may not apply to the Magdalens, but the modus vivendi licenses, of which the bankers avail themselves, opens the door there, as at all other points not covered by the "landing" and "curing" clause of the above compact. So long as those permits can be bought at a certain rate per ton, the vessels cannot be denied the privileges guaranteed therein. Many of those fishermen take out licenses at Halifax and elsewhere in the spring and go to the Magdalens for the second baiting. Moreover, I should hope Mr. McLean would not desire to stop our native netmen from selling their catches to the Americans as well as to the home fleet. A few months ago Canada was just raking in the money from this source, reaping a splendid harvest which you fittingly called a "bonanza," in reporting it. I would prefer to let those men earn all they can.

H. M. Nickerson."

WOUNDED BY SWORDFISH.

Richard Platt of This Port May Lose Leg.

Infurated Fish Stabbed Him
Through Bottom of Dory.

Richard Platt, a fisherman said to belong in this city, was seriously wounded in a fight with a mad swordfish off Block Island yesterday and was brought to the Newport hospital today. He is a member of the crew of the sloop Ida.

Saturday afternoon Platt drove a harpoon into a large swordfish. With several men he got into a small boat to capture the fish, which the men thought was about dead. It suddenly began to fight. Pushing its sword up through the bottom of the boat, the fish speared Platt.

The sword entered one of Platt's legs just above the ankle and came out at the knee. The wound was temporarily dressed at Block Island. He may lose his leg.

Bait.

Plenty of bait is reported at Riggsville. Caplin and herring are reported fair at Anticosti by the Dominion Fish Bureau.

The fishermen at Newburyport threw away 70 barrels of bait on Saturday as there was no call for it. Several of the fishing vessels bound for Newburyport for bait were met by the steamers Friday and supplied. Bait is very plentiful there at present, one of the boats taking 79 barrels at one haul. The price has been $2 per barrel.

Fine Salt Bank Trip.

Sch. Mabel D. Hines, Capt. Charles Rudolph, arrived from a salt bank trip this morning with one of the best fares of the season, 250,000 pounds of salt cod. Capt. Rudolph is one of the oldest skippers of the salt bank fleet and honestly bears the reputation of being one of the master mariners who have landed in the long term of service an enormous amount. Capt. Rudolph's many friends are pleased at his continued success and hope that for many years to come it may continue.

Big Swordfish Fare

Sch. Valentina, Capt. Charles O'Neil, is at Boston today with a big swordfish fare, the largest of the year, 96 fish in number.

Sch. Two Forty was at New Bedford yesterday with 21 swordfish.

Salt Bank Cod Sale.

The fare of sch. Mabel D. Hines sold to Reed & Gamage at $3.62 1-2 per hundred weight for large and $3.37 1-2 for medium cod.

Fish Shares.

Parker and Ella M. made very good trips in sharing $120, and the
